The Canine Member of the Bone-Grafting Duet Regains Her Voice,

Boy and Dog Eat, Sleep and Thrive While Their Shinbones Wed.

Tender-Hearted Ladles Pray for the Dog, but Forget the Crippfed Lad.

The attempted bone-union of Jonnnie Gethins and his pet spaniel Yip at the Charity Hospital continues its quiet progress in spite of the fact that a quartet of Baltimore ladies are praying carnestly that it may not be a success. D. Phelps is the delly recipient of many letters con-erning the bone-grafting experiment, and among the more recent commun pations are many from tender-hearted women. who object emphatically to the cruel treatment to which poor Yip is being subjected. Last evening, when the doctor opened his nail, it is said that he was both surprised and mused at the letter from four Baltimore who not only protested against the crueity to Yip, but stated that they met daily and neld long seasons of prayer that the experiment may prove a failure.

While the ladies from the Monumental City evidently have faith that their prayers will be answered, it would seem highly proper that they remember the Scriptural injunction that . Faith without works is dead.

Th r fal h has apparently had little effect upon the experiment thus far, for both boy and dog were reported in splendid condition at the nospital this morning, and if this state of affairs continues, the only "works" likely to interfere with the complete success of the grafting will be the fracture of the plaster cast which completely envelops the conjoined it is not expected that the Baltimore ladie will resort to extreme measures, and even if they should come on with desperate resolves in their hearts, they will probably gracefully surrender when they meet with Dr. Phelps's firm but courteous reply that "it is none of their business. Johnnie and Yip are to all appearances growing stronger under the careful nourishment and absolute rest and quiet to which they are subjected. Food of a little more substantial quality is now given both, including occasionally just a little mite of tenderly broiled steak. Less colld foods, nowever, still comprise the bulk of their menu, as too much meat is no considered beneficial either for boy or besst.

Yip has improved so much in the last day of we that this morning she was able to use her cerated vocal chords to the extent of utter ing a fairly respectable whine. The discovery that she could, in a measure, again make known her wants, it is said, produced a marked effect upon the canine, and so vigorously did she wag her tall, in consequence, that House Surgeon Newman became fearful that the after portion of her plaster cast would be broken. bolong as her recovery of spirits does no

At 1. 30 P. M. to-day the failure of Broker J. Cook Waldron was announced on the Stock Exchange.

He was an old member of the Exchange and his failure caused surprise. His office is at

A feature of the decline was the drop in regon Improvement Company's stock from 16 to 11 on the reports that the Company was n financial straits and was about to apply for a receiver.

This report was verified at the office of the Company. Prosper W. Smith, the Treasurer, said that the application for a receiver will be made in the Oregon courts. He said that the cause of the present embarrassment was the His Wedding to Miss Aimee tightness in the money market which preented them from raising money. Mr. Smith declined to go any further inte etalls in the absence of President Elijah Smith, who has been sick at his home for several days past and has not been at his office in the Mills Building. He said, however, that he was preparing a statement for the stockbolders.

Under the reorganization of the Oregon Improvement Company the capital stock is $9,000,000 common and $1,101,000 pref-rred atock. The Louded incebtedness includes $4,500,000 of the original first mortgage 5 per crois, and $15,000,000 of consolidated mortgage 5 per crois and $15,000,000 of consolidated mortgage 5 per crois $1,000,000 of consolidated mortgage 5 per crois $1

Of the latter only about $5,000,000 have been isaned, $1,000,000 of which was used to retire $1,000,000 of the preferred stock; $450,000 of the first mortgage boats was also retired by the Sinking Fund.

It is intimated that the three quarterly dividends of 1 per cent. each which have been declared this year were not paid out of the earnings, but from the sale of bonds. This, however, is denied by officer so if the Company.

The advances made to small Oregon roads for the groom; the self-sulfield the outsiness, and now that the loans made on the consolidated bonds are being called the Company has found itself unable te meet its obligations and applies for the appeintment of a receiver.

the consolidated 5s siready on the market the outcome is still uncertain.

The receiver must necessarily be a resident of the State of Oregon, and as yet no one has been decided upon.

James H. Simonds, of Portland, Ore., one of the directors of the company is mentioned in connection with the position.
